

Driving a Higher Standard in Product Support and Service

“ We have owned our DryCal® for over 2 years and we continue to be impressed with its accuracy, repeatability and ease of use. It has more than met our expectations from a performance standpoint and the service and support from Bios International can only be characterized as excellent.

I really appreciate the responsiveness of the support staff. Every time I call with a question there is always someone to talk to that can provide an answer. I really appreciate not having to leave a message and ‘maybe’ having an engineer return my call like some companies seem to do now. I would rate Bios International as A+ for both service and products. ”
